

1.

How can we drastically reduce latency for real-time applications that need rapid reaction times?

2.

By shifting just a small piece of the network's intelligence from the Cloud to a smaller "Cloudlet" at the edge of the access network to shorten reaction times - Mobile Edge Computing!